Absolute Turnkey Announces the Absolute Advantage to the OEM and EMS marketplace

May 2010 – Absolute Turnkey announces the Absolute Advantage program to OEMs and the EMS marketplace. The Absolute Advantage centers around providing customers with the ultimate in Flexibility while getting their products to market with Speed. The combination of Flexibility and Speed is what sets the Absolute Advantage apart from other EMS providers.

The Absolute Advantage of Flexibility and Speed helps customers rapidly introduce innovative new technology which provides a Speed-To-Market solution for OEM customers. A complete end-to-end solution also provides Speed in getting the OEM customers product to market quickly. This end-to-end solution starts in engineering services then to prototypes, pilots and into production.

Customer market segments served by the Absolute Advantage include Medical, Semiconductor, Military, Communications and many more.

About Absolute Turnkey

Founded in 1996 and with a 14 year history of growth and profitability, Absolute Turnkey is a leader in manufacturing the complete end-to-end EMS solution. This end-to-end EMS solution helps customers rapidly introduce innovative new technology by providing Speed-To-Market to their OEM customers. Speed-To-Market starts with Engineering Services and extends into prototypes, pilots and then into production with a comprehensive level of testing solutions along each step.
